DETAILED ACTION

Priority

1. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Specification

2. The title of the invention is not descriptive. A new title is required that is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1-4, 18 and 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Rader et al. (USP 6,504,422). Rader discloses the claimed connection of applicant's claims see below 3A. The exact same figures as applicant's figure 1a and 1b. For claim 18, the current control circuit see figure 6.

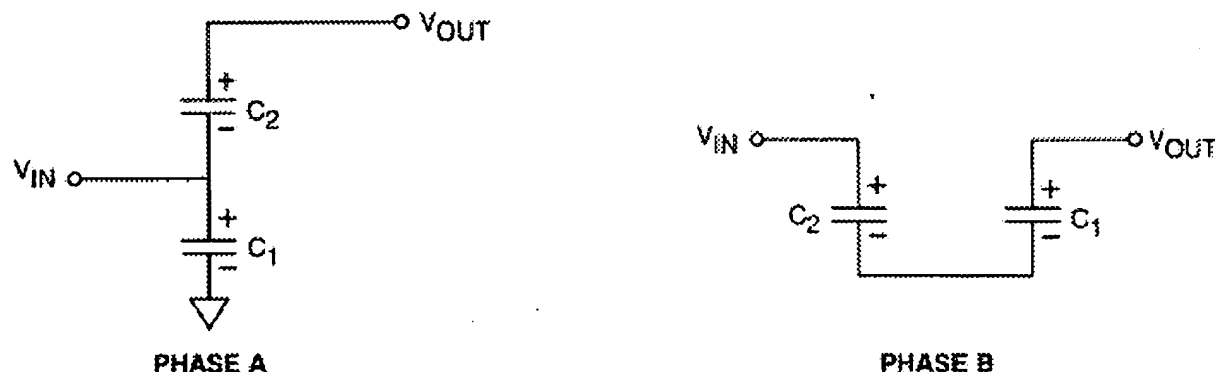

FIG. 3A

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 6-8 10-12, and 14-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being obvious over Rader et al. (USP 6,504,422) in view of Kotowski et al. (USP 6,198,645).

Rader discloses the claimed invention (see above paragraph) except for the arrangement of the capacitors in an array like connection that is connected in series in one phase and coupled in parallel in the second phase. Kotowski discloses that it is known in the art to provide the arrangement of the capacitors in an array like connection that is connected in series in one phase and coupled in parallel in the second phase. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention was made to provide the arrangement of the capacitors in an array like connection that is connected in series in one phase and coupled in parallel in the second phase of Kotowski with the charge pump with current limiting circuit of Rader, in order to provide a result of a single charge state for a range of desired gains can be configured for use with a shared or common rest state, i.e., a capacitor configuration which is the same regardless of the desired gain. In the charge state, selected capacitors are configured in series for the desired gain setting, while in the shared rest state, all the capacitors are configured in parallel from the output to the input. Because a shared rest state is used, the correct charge is always transferred at the desired gain with a single switched capacitor array.

Allowable Subject Matter

7. Claims 5, 9, 13, 17 and 20 (dependency of claim 5) are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
